CONGRESSIONAL HAPPENINGS IN WASHINGTON

By CLARENCE J. BROWN
Member of Congress,
Seventh Ohio District

Two weeks ago this column pointed out that one of the most important issues to be settled in the war zone then going on near the Scandinavian Peninsula would be the question of superiority in conflict between battle ships and airplanes. Naval experts now seem to be satisfied that the question is settled, and the airplane has proven its superiority over the old and present type battle ships. At least that is the opinion of Secretary of the Navy Edison, who publicly stated it would be necessary to make important changes in battleship armament in order to give greater protection to naval vessels against air attack.

The general feeling in Washington relative to Great Britain's disastrous Norwegian campaign is that the Chamberlain Administration has again blundered. American military strategists frankly state that British tactics in Norway were so poorly planned and carried out as to almost constitute criminal negligence on the part of those in command. Just where the next German thrust will come is a matter of debate. Some believe that Sweden will be the next center of Nazi operation. Others think that the war will be extended into the Balkans. Italy remains a problem. Rumors persist in Washington that Italy is planning on entering the European conflict within the next ten days or two weeks. It is also rumored that if Italy enters the war, Franco will soon send his Spanish forces against France.

In April 1899 more than eight thousand American soldiers, who had participated in the war against Spain, were in the Philippines awaiting transportation home and final discharge, as provided for in their original enlistments. Suddenly the Philippine insurrection, led by Aguinaldo, broke out in all its fury. President McKinley appealed to the soldiers, awaiting transportation home, to aid in putting down the insurrection and promised they would receive, in cash, as additional compensation, the cost of their transportation to and from the states. The troops responded almost to a man to President McKinley's appeal. However, by the time the insurrection was crushed and the soldiers arrived back in the United States, President McKinley was dead, victim of an assassin's bullet. For years the Spanish-American War Veterans involved have endeavored to obtain the travel pay promised them. Just a few weeks ago Congress passed a bill fulfilling President McKinley's pledge and making payment to the Veterans. The bill went to President Roosevelt, who, unexpectedly vetoed it. Last week both the House and Senate, by almost unanimous vote, passed the measure over the President's veto—the first time a Presidential veto has been overridden at this session of Congress.

President Roosevelt's recently announced reorganization plan placing the Civil Aeronautics Authority under the Department of Commerce has brought a storm of protest in Congress. The Civil Aeronautics Authority was created as an independent agency as a result of disclosures a few years ago of mishandling of aviation affairs, which were then supervised by the Department of Commerce. Since the creation of an independent agency, aviation has made a remarkable record and growth in this country. Only last March, a nation-wide celebration of one year of commercial aviation without the death or serious injury of a single passenger was celebrated. Resolutions have been introduced in Congress to reject the President's reorganization order transferring Civil Aeronautics Authority. The rejection of the plan by Congress, which now seems almost certain, will mean that the Civil Aeronautics Authority will be continued in its present form—an independent agency subject to no other division of government except the Congress.

The House spent all of last week debating amendments to the Wages and Hours law, which came before that body under a peculiar rule as a series of substitute bills. One of the worst parliamentary tangles in many years ensued with the final result being that the original Norton Bill, amending the Wages and Hours law, was recommended to the Labor Committee. The proposed Norton Bill, as finally voted upon, contained provisions that would have taken away from agriculture, and the processors of agricultural products many exemptions and privileges already enjoyed under the present Wages and Hours Act.

MOTHER'S DAY PROCLAIMED

Governor Bricker today proclaimed next Sunday as Mother's Day. He urged the display of the American flag on all public buildings and the payment of tribute in general to mothers.

MOTHER'S DAY

By Charles Edwin Lamate

The original suggestion of Mother's Day is attributed to Miss Anna M. Jarvis. In 1904 she bid farewell to her mother's face at an open grave in Grafton, West Virginia. As she stood there the idea of Mother's Day was born. She returned to her home in Philadelphia. On the second Sunday of May, the next year, she invited friends to help her observe the day in memory of mothers. Newspapers reported it, and Philadelphia first observed it the following year on May 10, 1905.

Hearing of her suggestion through a Brooklyn paper, the Rev. W. P. Heron of Ft. Wayne, Indiana, asked her permission to preach the first sermon on Mother's Day. This was granted, and on the second Sunday of May, 1909, the sermon was delivered in the Trinity Methodist Church of Ft. Wayne.

President Woodrow Wilson on May 8, 1913, approved a joint resolution of Congress designating the second Sunday of May as Mother's Day. The Congressional Record of May 11, 1929, printed the address of the Hon. Frank L. Bowman of West Virginia, who that year was Mother's Day spokesman in the House of Representatives. Miss Jarvis was present and introduced and honored for her part in starting "the great movement of Mother's Day" which is destined to sweep into every clime where language is spoken and touch the tender hearts of multitudes with fond memories of mother.

Appropos to Mother's Day comes a beautiful poem out of the days of the War between the States. It is entitled, "On the Death of my Mother." Since we are thinking so much these days of war and soldiers, it is fitting that we read these lines. I take it from the Virginia Historical Collections, Volume VI, New Series. It was written by Brigadier-General M. Jeff Thompson while a prisoner of war on Johnson's Island in Lake Erie. Thompson was from St. Joseph, Missouri, and his regiment was part of the Missouri State Guard of the Trans-Mississippi Confederate Army. He was taken prisoner at Potosi, Missouri, August 22, 1863.

I've stood 'mid many battles' blast,
And braved the shock of charging hosts;
Mid comrades falling thick and fast,
And shrieking wounds and ghastly noise.

Such sights but nerve a soldier's soul,
And then we must our feelings smother;
But now my tears brook no control,
For I hear that thou art dead, My Mother!

I've sat beside my dying friend
And seen their life's blood ooze away,
And felt that I my life could end
In earnest prayer that they might stay,

To cheer me with their friendship
For they loved me fondly as a brother;
But all this grief is but one tear
To those I shed for thee, My Mother!

But a soldier has no time for tears,
My country needs my constant thoughts;
My heart is hard to grief and fears,
And freedom then is only bought.

A mess-mate falls—we say good-bye!
The next in rank becomes another.
There's not the pain, though all should die,
Like that, the loss of thee, My Mother!

GAIN SHOWN IN GROWTH OF VILLAGE

Marcellus Townsley, local census enumerator for the village has completed his work and turned his report in to district headquarters in Springfield.

Citizens will be interested in the report which shows a gain in population of 63. The census ten years ago gave the village 960 while the 1940 report shows the count to be 1023. There are 350 residences in the village, with 11 reported vacant, some of course are not desirable for renters and a few have since been rented.

In view of the fact that there are a number of families that live adjacent to the village, enjoy the water works for fire protection as well as electric lights, the population adjacent added to the report would give us more than 1200.

Mr. J. Lloyd Confarr, enumerator for the township, has not yet completed his canvass but expects to do so in a few days.

DUDLEY WHITE TARES INTO NEW DEAL

Dudley White, Norwalk, O., candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator spoke before a large group of Republicans at Geyer's dining room, Xenia, last Saturday for luncheon. The audience was as near representative as one would expect there being businessmen, office holders and farmers, the latter predominating in numbers.

Cong. White, who has survived the Roosevelt landslide in the Thirtieth District, having served two terms with a record on which he appeals for Republican support for the presidential nomination, stated in plain terms his views on the New Deal and its plan of reckless spending that has created a burdensome deficit on the government to be met in the future by taxpayers.

He defended the administration of Gov. John Bricker to whom he gave much credit for standing between reckless spending for relief and the demands made by Mayor Burton of Cleveland for a special session of the legislature that would have forced rural counties to aid in financing a burden that belonged to Cleveland and the other cities that had joined in an effort to unload their problem on the whole state.

White stated the nation was done with the "Roosevelt Republicans" like George Norris, Mayor LaGuardia, and Mayor Burton, who continually sought the aid of the Ohio delegation in Congress to support New Deal crack-pot legislation.

The dinner in honor of Cong. White was sponsored by Attorney Charles L. Dardington. Attorney Harry D. Smith, chairman of the Republican Executive Committee presided and introduced Charles J. Waggoner, Lebanon, Republican state central committeeman from the Seventh District, who introduced Cong. White. Guests introduced to the audience were Albert Daniels, Greenfield, and John M. A SENTIMENTAL TRIBUTE TO MOTHER

"All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my angel mother."
—Abraham Lincoln

ENGLAND LEAVES NORWAY TO ITS FATE

Recent events in the European war zone certainly have not been what England has boasted they would be. Norway has suffered the same fate as other smaller powers that were to be "saved" by the Allies. It was just additional proof that England's policy of keeping the war on a neighbor's territory was the main objective.

Friction in English parliament over the Chamberlain policy has almost divided that legislative body as well as disturbed sentiment of the English people for moral support in conduct of the war. It is evident more and more as days pass that England is fighting Germany purely for economic reasons that she can control world trade. The prize first was trade in the South American countries. Then and having a lower labor cost than the United States took most of our trade. Germany not to be outdone resorted to the barter system of raw materials for finished products and this put both England and the U. S. out on the end of a limb.

The Norway campaign was a complete victory for Hitler's air force, once more proof that the huge million dollar battleship is only to be a target in the future for the airplane bomb. Hitler's air force was so far superior to that of England there was a complete rout and rather than face continued slaughter, England turned homeward with her military leaders to face the wrath of an indignant people.

England used many planes made in this country, some of them the models of brain-trusters without experience. Older heads had been shelved for New Dealers. These models were worthless. They had not proven satisfactory in this country and cost the lives of several of our aviators during experimental tests.

Our own Col. Lindbergh, whose experience is probably greater than that of any living man on this continent, was sought for advice by government air forces. He used plain language to tell the departments what was wrong in his opinion. This did not please the New Deal air specialists and you will recall Lindbergh was publicly booted out of the department. Unannounced Lindbergh is back and just recently passed on airplane construction at Wright Field. The New Deal has not treated the public or Lindbergh fair in announcing his return as a consultant after having been booted out of the service.

The English situation and the experience that nation has had with New Deal fighting planes certainly is no recommendation as to our security from air attacks. Probably Roosevelt was correct when he ordered the nation's capitol painted a drab gray color in preference to the usual white fearing attack from some foreign foe at night. His dream of attack was right but it will come first from within the treachery of his Communist friends that have been placed in important government departments.

John M. Grierson Committee

For State Senator

Fifth-Sixth District

May 6, 1940

To Greene County Farmers:

Tuesday, May 14th is primary election day when nominations will be made for various offices in the state, districts and county.

Greene county is one of the counties in the Fifth-Sixth State Senatorial District and John M. Grierson, Hillsboro, Highland county, seeks the Republican nomination for State Senator.

While Mr. Grierson is known to many farmers in this county, being actively engaged in farming himself, for some years connected with the Extension Department of Ohio State University as Farm Institute Speaker. There may be some who would accept this letter as a recommendation from a committee of Greene county farmers that wish to endorse Mr. Grierson and urge his nomination.

There are many reasons why the farmers of this county and district should have one of their own sitting in the upper House of the legislature. There are numerous proposals confronting farm interests in Ohio. We are confident Mr. Grierson by education, training and practical experience on and off the platform is able to represent all the interests in a fair and impartial manner.

The following committee urges his nomination and asks that you do your part in having a full vote among the farmers in Greene county.

Respectfully,

John Munger

It is interesting to hear Charles Kettinger relate some of his research experiences. For instance at this time he is seeking the reason why grass is green. This may sound silly but evidently there is a reason. He wants to know just why grass is green. He already knows that grass dried in a certain manner holds more of the vitamin content than when it is green. What does the sun put in grass and what does it take out of it are other problems that only the research experiments can explain. What does the sun do to the "lab-pigs" when they are fed only barley for a time? What could make a difference between the barley fed white-lab-pig and the black-lab pig when they are exposed to the sun? Why does the black pig live and the white one die? Put a cover on the white pig and it will live out in the sun, but why?

A political poll taken among the 10,000 students at O. S. U. shows a decided Republican tendency against the predicted Democratic landslide four years ago in the same institution. The vote against the third term for Roosevelt was 60 per cent; 21 per cent favored a third term and 19 per cent were undecided. Forty per cent favored Republican success this fall while 31 per cent expressed Democratic preference and 29 per cent undecided.

There are a lot of Democrats that cannot understand just why FDR favors the passage of the Hatch bill which will restrict all state appointees, where their pay comes in part or wholly from federal funds, from political activity. With thousands of Democrats holding such jobs they are to be put on the spot and the Republicans are to be the watch-dogs not only in Ohio but over the nation. There are more Democrats on such a pay roll than Republicans in Ohio. But this is not all as our attention was called Tuesday in Columbus by a good Democrat that the Hatch law puts a sky light for presidential elections at $3,000,000, which is the lowest known in recent years for either major party. The bankers and manufacturers who have in the past dropped the coin in the Democratic till will not be there this year, according to our friend, who has an associate as a state candidate on that ticket. More than one Democrat angered at the New Deal will put his cash in the Republican treasury this year and Hatch, a Democrat, realizes that so the Republicans must be tied to the three million limit. The bill has been buried in committee but Roosevelt urged its passage to limit Republican expenditures. Southern Democrats do not like the bill regardless of what Roosevelt wants.

Cong. Clarence J. Brown must have had a lot of sport with his Democratic colleagues in the debate over the wage and hour bill last week. Mr. Brown called attention to the fact that the majority had been promising much to labor and now was the time to prove they meant what they said instead of trying to hold up the bill from passage. His challenge went by unnoticed by the Democrats and of course the Brown amendment to put the majority on record was lost. One more platform pledge by the New Deal was thrown out the window at the request of Southern Democrats. Mr. Brown forced an issue that will be hard for the New Deal to answer in the coming campaign.

The closeness of the vote for the Democratic nomination for senator in Florida Tuesday with the Townsend old age pension candidate a close runner-up, is proof that this issue must be met sooner or later. It makes no difference what personal opinion is on this subject, if it is to be a political football it is here to stay. Moreover economists are convinced that the Townsend plan will almost finance itself and that relief, social security and all of the Roosevelt New Deal spending programs can be cast into the ash can and the nation saved from one to two hundred million a year. The argument is all in favor of the Townsend plan if what we have is to be continued. Those on the present pension plan would hardly be disappointed if given $200 a month rather than the present $28 or the Bigelow plan of $80 for married couples. It could be administered without a great cost. The New Deal measures "pension Demo-

New Low Price on Gas and OilFARM TOPICS*YOUNG FARMERS NEED INCENTIVE

Youth Must Be 'So'd' on Rural Life.

By EUGENE L. SPARROW

Through some hokus-pokus, characterizations of city life usually are taken from the exceptionally fortunate examples but the examples of country life are drawn from the "Tobacco Road" and "Grapes of Wrath" strata.

This custom of comparing the best of urban life with the worst of rural existence is an injustice to farm boys and girls and a threat to the welfare of the nation. Young men and women exposed through formative years to literature, art, movies and drama which distorts the true picture of city and country are likely to believe they can be happy only where success is measured in terms of millions.

The glare of city millionaires hides slums and poverty that are more typical of great cities than the immense wealth so often cited. The average amount of property accumulated by farmers is greater than the average for city workers.

Rural parents can counteract the publicity favorable to city life by teaching their children to share earnestly in the responsibilities and the rewards of farm life. Encouragement for the boy or girl to raise live stock, gardens, or crops, and ownership of the profits, help in making farming brighter for children.

Mechanical farm equipment has reduced the need for hand labor on farms and for laborers, but factory equipment likewise has reduced the number on shop payrolls. Choice of life in the city or country should be made by rural boys and girls on a basis of fact rather than fancy.

Bantam Chickens Prove Profitable

About the smartest creature with feathers is the bantam chicken. Such characteristics of bantams as intelligence, small size and finally the practice fact that they produce eggs has made them favorites in many sections of the country. Many families keep a bantam for about the same reason that they keep a dog.

The profit of the breeder and fancier is high as compared with maintenance, as these miniatures only consume one-fifth as much as the large breeds. Buyers will pay from $1.50 to $3 for a setting of quality eggs. Breeders sell single birds from $2 to $15, while fanciers readily refuse twice that price.

It's not expensive to house bantams. If they are to be raised on the ground a yard 4 by 12 feet will provide ample space for a rooster and two hens—for breeding purposes. If housing is for eggs, six or eight hens can be raised in this same space.

A number of bantam breeders are raising their stock on wire flooring. The same size pen or inclosure is used but it is raised about two feet off the ground. All ages develop well on wire flooring.

Harness Cleaning

Harness is often damaged in winter by acid bearing moisture in closed barns. The dampness rusts buckles and hardware and the moisture weakens the leather. Rats and mice are not so likely to chew a well-oiled harness. Any good neat-foot oil compound will seal the pores in the harness and protect it against acid and dampness, while the oil also protects the metal parts against rust. Before oiling, harness should be taken apart and cleaned and weak parts replaced. After oiling, the harness should be dried in a warm room.

Former Gov. Martin L. Davey

DAVEY VS. BRICKERA Convincing Parallel

The name Davey is used here for brevity. It is intended to include all the department heads and the legislature.

Davey balanced the state budget every year without new taxes and without any financial juggling.

Bricker balanced his budget by robbing the public school fund of $6,500,000 (which he put in his general revenue fund) and by letting people go hungry.

Davey vetoed over $15,000,000 in unnecessary appropriations, in order to save money for Ohio taxpayers.

Did Bricker veto any appropriations? Not one dollar.

Davey gave the people of Ohio $72,000,000 tax reductions from 1935 to 1940 inclusive. He repealed the sales tax on food, cut automobile license fees $2,000,000 a year, cut farmers' truck fees $1,000,000 a year, reduced admissions taxes from 10% to 5%, cut intangible taxes from 6% to 5%, etc., etc.

Did Bricker give any tax reductions? Not one dollar.

Davey gave Ohio the great public school foundation law, which reopened the closed schools and saved the school system for this state.

Bricker robbed the public school fund of $6,500,000 in order to make a pretense of doing something for the schools.

Davey increased old age pensions twice by executive order—the first time $10 per month and the second time 100%.

Bricker broke all his pre-election promises to the old age pensioners, which he made in his campaign letter.

Davey promises to increase old age pensions in accordance with the new federal law, and he promises to return all the property to the old age pensioners which the state has taken from them. Davey makes good his promises.

Bricker has the power to call the legislature right now to increase old age pensions and restore the property to the old folks. But will he? Not unless he is scared into it.

Davey has been a friend of labor for many years throughout his long service in Congress and as Governor of Ohio. He produced much favorable legislation that is now on the statute books.

Bricker has slapped labor in the face at every turn of the road. He seems to be anti-labor. His handling of unemployment insurance has shown a desire to chisel the unemployed.

Davey set up the unemployment insurance department in Ohio and organized it on a business basis with one of the lowest overhead costs. He left over $100,000,000 in that fund. Under his management, Ohio was the only state in the Union which was ready to pay unemployment insurance benefits as soon as the law permitted.

Bricker proceeded immediately to make the Bureau of Unemployment Insurance a political football. He discharged many of the most capable employees and stacked it with his own henchmen. And he established an anti-labor policy in the administration of the law.

Davey took Conservation out of politics and made the Conservation Division one of the best in the United States. He did more for Conservation in 4 years than had been done in the previous quarter of a century. He kept Conservation out of politics, and appointed men who knew their jobs. He gave all sportsmen's fees to Conservation, paid back the money previously withheld, secured large Federal sums, and gave Ohio its only great program.

Bricker put the Conservation Division right back in politics. He appointed a Republican politician as Conservation Commissioner. He discharged nearly all the competent, trained professional employees, and put in their places politicians who knew nothing about either the science or philosophy of conservation. Bricker set Conservation back ten years. He broke all his promises to Ohio sportsmen.

Davey put a high-class insurance man in charge of the Division of Insurance and kept it free of politics. He raised the standard of that division so that it ranked with the best in this country.

Bricker picked a politician to run the insurance division, and he has been playing politics with it ever since. He discharged many of the competent employees, and put inexperienced politicians in their places.

Davey inherited closed banks with 500 million dollars of deposits, and closed Building and Loans with over 100 million deposits. He made the best record of any state in the Union, returning 84% to the depositors. The next high state paid only 70%. He finished the work of reorganizing or liquidating all but 18 of 169 closed banks, and finished with a big majority of the closed Building & Loan.

Bricker had very little of the problem left regarding closed banks. But he has been playing politics with them. One of the most conspicuous examples of this is his miserable handling of the Building and Loans in Dayton. While Bricker was Attorney General, he raided the closed banks with exorbitant lawyer fees, that were shocking in their amounts.

Davey respected the Civil Service Laws of Ohio. In only a few years he discharged Civil Service employees and only then when the employees violated the law by pernicious political activity. Davey kept nearly all the experienced personnel of the Ohio government, in order that the departments could function efficiently and economically in the public interest.

Bricker raped the Civil Service in a more audacious manner than any Governor in Ohio's history. His record of contemptuous action against Civil Service employees is worse than all Governors of Ohio combined since the law was passed. He discharged experienced, capable employees by the thousands. The result has been gross inefficiency and waste.

Davey passed many progressive and constructive laws for the benefit of the people. His record is the best in 20 years or more.

Bricker's legislation was largely Ripper laws, intended to get political control of all the departments of the government. He has done nothing for the farmers, nothing for labor, and almost nothing for business.

Davey told the truth to the people when he was Governor. He did not resort to misrepresentation or tricky devices regarding the affairs of the state.

Bricker has been guilty of many falsehoods, especially with reference to the financial affairs of the state. In fact Bricker has been running for President ever since he was elected Governor.

Davey had to get along on greatly reduced state revenues in 1938, because of bad business conditions. And still he balanced the budget without letting anyone go cold and hungry. He met all the state's legal and moral obligations, and left a cash balance in the Treasury for his successor. Davey raised the pay of the poorly paid workers.

Bricker had $30,000,000 more in 1939 than Davey had in 1938. He actually spent $23,000,000 more than Davey did in 1938. In spite of the hypocritical claims, Bricker spent $1,000,000 more for salaries and wages in 1939 than Davey spent in 1938. But still Bricker cut the wages of the poorly paid employees.

Davey gave representation in the Ohio government to all the groups of this state. For the first time in history, he gave important positions to representatives of all the minority groups. He believes that all citizens are entitled to proper representation, so that all may feel "this is my government."

Bricker drove out of the state government all those representatives of the minority groups, and appointed in their places his own little clique. He has shown himself to be narrowly partisan, prejudiced to the point of bigotry, cold-blooded and high-bred.

THIS IS ONLY PART OF THE STORY. THE REST WILL BE TOLD LATER.

FOR GREENE COUNTY REPUBLICAN

State Representative

(First Term)

Two terms as Coroner of Greene County; three terms as City Commissioner of four years each; two terms as Mayor of Xenia City.

An advocate of legislation that will promote the welfare of the farmer; further the State's program of educating its youth; pay as we go program; against Government red tape, etc.

Furthermore, the welfare of the aged should be of vital interest to any legislator because it makes life comfortable to them (the aged) in their few remaining years, and helps lift the heavy load from the merchant and the professional man, from whom they depend. I am telling you, straight from the shoulder because I come in contact with this saddened condition daily.

Often dependents for financial assistance such as aid for crippled children, and for dependent children, and aid for the blind, will receive my undivided attention.

I am affiliated with the Fraternal Order of Eagles, and a Past Worthwhile President of Xenia Aerie 1889; a member of Xenia Grange No. 1788; member of D. of A.; member of Independent Order of Odd Fellows No. 52; Modern Woodmen; housewary member of Ohio Police and Firemen's Organization; member of Xenia Lodge No. 49 Free and Accepted Masons; Xenia Chapter No. 36, R. A. M.; Wright Council No. 36, R. and S. M.; Xenia, Ohio 32 degree Mason, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of Dayton, Ohio; Noble in Shrine of Antioch Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S. of Dayton, Ohio; member of the Greene County Masonic Club and numerous other patriotic and fraternal organizations; member of the Buckeye S. S. I have allied myself with the above-named organizations for the sole purpose of having a part in the excellent moral, social, and charitable work which they are accomplishing.

Your vote at the May Primary will be a vote that will be appreciated and one that will be reassured, and one if nominated and elected to State Legislature, the State of Ohio, will know that Greene County has a Representative that is for the best interests of all the people.

UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Dean of the Moody Bible Institute
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for May 12

HABAKKUK FIGHTS THROUGH DOUBT TO FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Habakkuk 1:12-2:4.
GOLDEN TEXT—The just shall live by his faith—Habakkuk 2:4.

"The just shall live by his faith"—the great rallying cry of the Reformation; in fact, the very essence of Christianity, is found in the glorious conclusion which the prophet Habakkuk reaches in his triumphant confidence in God. Trying circumstance, doubt and fear must all yield to faith in God.

The lesson for today is peculiarly appropriate to the situation in which the world finds itself just now. Men's hearts are failing them for fear. It seems to them that all is chaotic disorder; they wonder whether God has any plan for the world and its people, and the answer is really simple. "Why doesn't God do something?" is the question on many lips. The answer is in our lesson.

I. Believe, Though Surrounded by Questions (1:12-17).
Habakkuk does not question that his people had sinned and were worthy of God's disciplinary chastening, but he is astonished to learn that God plans to use the wicked Chaldeans to bring it about. Questions pour in upon him as he describes their iniquity (v. 13), and speaks of them as catching Judah in their net (vv. 14, 15) and gloating over their victims (vv. 16, 17).

He does not yet know the answer to his questions, but he has already stated the foundation of his faith in verse 12. Whatever happens, no matter how sore the trial and non-understandable the outworking of God's plan, the prophet is sure of his God as the eternal and holy One. The point to be borne in mind in such a time is that God is not making plans for the moment or because of some unexpected change in circumstances. He is "from everlasting" (v. 12). His plans are eternal. But he is also the "Holy One" (v. 12). It may seem for the present that all and wickedness have triumphed, but let us remember that the eternal plans of God are conceived and executed in holiness and power.

II. Be Alert in the Midst of Uncertainty (2:1).
One who does not have faith in God is prone to say in such times that all hope is lost, and give up in despair. Not so Habakkuk. He knew that there is nothing harder than to wait patiently for God. He determines to be neither discouraged, nor impatient, but to stand firmly, the power (v. 1). His words bespeak a very right and proper condition of soul. Perplexed and confused by the seeming enigma of God's ways, he owns he may require reproach, and takes his stand upon the watch tower above the mists of earth and beyond the thoughts and doings of men, where he can quietly wait on God and look out to see what He will say to him (v. 1, Ironside).

How desperately we need such alert and earnest watchers in our day. Christians, arise! Do not permit yourself to be either lulled into a false security or into deadening discouragement.

III. Receive the Answer of Triumphant Faith (2:2-4).
"The Lord answered me." He always does if we are ready to listen and to abide His time. Habakkuk received a vision of God's truth in which he was to write so plainly that everyone who read it would understand it and, in turn, run to others with the message. Those of us who teach and preach would do well to follow that admonition. All too often our message is not understood or fails to stir those who hear it to go quickly and tell others.

Looking forward to Christ, the just man of Habakkuk's day was to live by faith; even as we of this day, looking back to the cross of Christ, are justified by faith. This is the word which, as we have already suggested, stirred Luther and his fellows to bring about the Reformation. Long before Luther's day, however, the same words had come by the Holy Spirit's inspiration to be the heart of the great messages of Paul the apostle as he taught justification (Rom. 1:16, 17), as he defended grace against legalism (Gal. 3:11), and as he portrayed "the pilgrim's path through this world from the cross to the glory" (Heb. 10:38).

Woe to the Lord.
Oh, that men would praise the Lord for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing.—Psalm 107:21-22.

Prayer.
The lofty looks of men shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down.—Isaiah 2:11.

Spring Menus

Planning meals can be fun, if you'll let your imagination and your conscience be your guides! Meal planning does require imagination and a bit of originality, too, if you don't want the responsibility of three meals a day to be a bore, and three meals a day without that touch of "something" different can be boring to you as well as to your family! A meal may be properly and carefully "balanced" from the standpoint of proteins and carbohydrates and vitamins and minerals—and still be a drab and uninteresting affair.

That seems to be particularly true in spring, when appetites are likely to be jaded and you seem to be running out of menu ideas. And that's exactly the time to try something different, a little trick to add newness and interest to soups; a tasty and unusual meat dish; and a salad or dessert that makes use of some of the refreshing spring vegetables and fruits.

Just for variety, for instance, when I want to serve hot soup as the first course of a meal, I combine equal parts of canned consommé and tomato juice, simmer the resulting mixture for about 5 minutes with a bay leaf for flavor, and serve it very hot with a spoonful of salted whipped cream sprinkled with chopped chives or green onion tops. And I serve green onions and crisp, succulent radishes in place of the relishes I've used all winter. (I use rhubarb for sauce or for dessert, just as soon as the price comes down within reach of my budget; I shred young carrots, or cut them in thin slices, and cook them with an equal amount of onion, sliced fine; drain them and season with salt, pepper and butter. Or I cook carrots and potatoes together and mash them, just as I would for mashed potatoes, the mists of earth and beyond the thoughts and doings of men, where he can quietly wait on God and look out to see what He will say to him (v. 1, Ironside).

Here are three spring menus that I like.

Rhubarb Tarts

Corned Beef Hash Patties.
1 16-ounce can corned beef hash
1/2 cup chili sauce
8 slices bacon (cut in halves)
Place can of corned beef hash in refrigerator and chill thoroughly. Open can at both ends. Push corned beef hash out of can, slicing it in 1/2-inch slices. Place slices in buttered baking pan. Place 2 teaspoons chili sauce on top of each slice and top with two half slices of bacon. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for 10 minutes or until corned beef hash slices are thoroughly heated and bacon is crisp.

Johnny Cake or Corn Bread.
(Makes 1 Johnny Cake)
or
(12 Corn Meal Muffins)
1 1/2 cups yellow (or white) corn meal (uncooked)
1/2 cup general purpose flour
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon soda
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg
1 1/4 cups sour milk
3 tablespoons butter (melted)
Mix and sift dry ingredients into mixing bowl. Combine beaten egg, sour milk and melted butter and add to dry mixture. Stir lightly and pour into greased shallow pan, muffin tins or corn stick pans. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for 25 minutes.

Steak Roll.
(Serves 6)
1 slice round steak (1/2 inch thick)
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 lb. ham (ground)
1/4 cup thin cream
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
Salt and pepper
3/4 cup bread flour
1 cup canned tomatoes
Wipe steak with damp cloth. Melt butter in frying pan and brush over one side of steak. Mix together the ground ham, cream, and mustard, and spread over buttered side of steak. Roll like a jelly roll and secure with skewers or string. Sprinkle roll with salt and dredge with flour. Sauté in remaining butter until golden brown. Remove roll to baking dish. Add tomatoes to fat in skillet and heat to boiling. Pour this tomato mixture over the roll; cover with a lid and bake in a moderately hot oven (350 degrees) for 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 hours, or until tender.

Chilled Rhubarb Dessert.
For an extra-special fruit dessert try the following: To one pound of rhubarb (cut in 1/2-inch pieces) add 1 cup sugar, 1/4 cup orange juice and 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and cook in a double boiler 30 minutes or until tender. Serve cold.

Rhubarb Cream Tarts.
1 tablespoon butter
2 cups rhubarb (diced)
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 eggs (separated)
1/4 cup thick sweet cream
1/4 teaspoon salt
Melt butter, add rhubarb, and 1 cup of the sugar. Cook slowly for about 10 minutes or until the rhubarb is soft. Combine remaining fourth-cup of sugar with the cornstarch and beat with the well beaten egg yolks, cream and salt. Add to fruit mixture and cook until thick (about 3 minutes). Pour into baked tart shells. Top with meringue made from the 2 egg whites, beaten stiff, with 4 tablespoons sugar, beaten in. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) until brown (about 18 minutes).

Chocolate Upside-Down Cake.
1 1/2 cups cake flour
1/2 cup granulated sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 sq. bitter chocolate (1 oz.)
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup broken nut meats
2 tablespoons cocoa
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
Sift and measure the flour. Then sift flour, 1/4 cup granulated sugar, baking powder and salt together into a mixing bowl. Melt together the chocolate and butter; mix with the milk and vanilla. Stir into the dry ingredients. Add nuts and blend thoroughly. Pour into a well-greased deep layer-cake pan.

Topping.—Now mix together the cocoa, brown sugar and the 1/4 cup granulated sugar and salt. Spread this over the top of the cake batter. Over all pour the cup of boiling water and place in a moderate oven, (350 degrees) to bake 1 hour.

This is a rich chocolate cake with a chocolate sauce underneath. Turn it out for serving. It is best served slightly warm with whipped cream.

Don't Let an Old Corn Planter Cheat You Out of Hybrid Corn Profits

McCormick-Deering "100 Series" Planters

Handle Hybrid Seed with Unexcelled Accuracy

All around you farmers are cashing in on the advantages of hybrid corn. Men with soil no better than yours may be banking more corn profit than you are. You can do as well. But you'll need a planter that can handle hybrid seed and put the kernels where they will sprout and grow into healthy plants.

McCormick-Deering "100 Series" Planters are designed to meet this need. Your choice of flat, edge- or hill-drop plates enables you to handle all varieties of corn. You may not be ready now to plant hybrid corn, but you surely want the planter you buy equipped to plant hybrid seed so you can make the change whenever you are ready.

The "100 Series" planters have many other features that combine to make them the full-value planters of the year. Ask us to quote you on a McCormick-Deering Planter for your use.

Gay tunes, the best Bing has had in a long while, are enlivened by duet arrangements for Bing and Gloria that are particularly effective. WASHINGTON LETTER

Already there is a lot of undercover talk, both in official circles and outside, that the United States should furnish airplane pilots to the Allies, the contention being made that it takes at least two years to train a pilot to fly a fast warplane, and that while the Allies are now getting new planes rapidly they cannot train pilots fast enough to take care of their own needs. In other quarters it is being argued that the United States must send both planes and warships to the aid of the Allies; but that no land forces will be sent over-seas. Some of this talk is coming from such high quarters as to make observers wonder what is ahead. One outstanding American, who has made a study of diplomatic and international affairs for more than fifty years and is considered an authority on such matters, and whose name cannot be mentioned, here, made the statement in private conversation this week—"The United States is much closer to war right now than in May 1916. American officials must keep their heads clear and their feet on the ground if the United States is not to become involved."
